Dear Parent/Carer

Accessing Distance Learning for Science

Distance learning - Absence due to illness or self-isolation

Students will need to have access to our online scheme of learning - Kerboodle . All students have been given a username (their academy email address) and password for this site. Students will also need to enter the institution code of fu8. Here the resources and online textbooks can be accessed for all year groups.

Each year group has a set of distance learning instructions that can be found on Show my Homework. Students follow these instructions, using the links to BBC Bitesize, Kerboodle and other online platforms specific to the learning that is taking place in their science lessons in school. Task sheets are also on Show my Homework to help support the learning.

Distance learning - Absence due to bubble working at home

If we have to send a class or year group bubble home, programme 1 will be used, in addition to which will be our interactive learning and assessment resource - Seneca learning. All students need to sign up to this platform following the instruction provided on Show my Homework, using a class code to join their science class. All assignments set on Seneca learning are in line with the learning that would be taking place in school, and is set on Show my Homework, so students will know what work is required to be completed.

These tasks are automatically marked and teachers are able to see the learning and progress students are making.

In addition to this, whether at the academy or learning from home, all students are still expected to complete their weekly homework daily goals on Tassomai.

We hope that these programmes and resources will support your child to continue their education in science whilst dealing with the challenges we are all facing. If you have any questions regarding the distance learning, please contact your child's science teacher on the email addresses below and we will endeavour to help in any way we can.
